

Maddie Logan

Maddie Logan is a country-pop singer/songwriter based in both Nashville and Los Angeles. From Musical theatre, to singing alongside a renowned Los Angeles orchestra, to solo appearances, Maddie has been performing most of her 17 years. Early on, she demonstrated a prodigious talent for songwriting that caught the attention of music industry professionals in Los Angeles. Before long, 9 year old Maddie was in the studio recording her first original songs.

At 13, Maddie's penchant for songwriting and love of country music compelled her to begin the challenging task of establishing herself as a country artist in Nashville. Once there she immediately got busy, and was blessed to co-write with some amazingly talented songwriters. These collaborations, along with the opportunity to work with many brilliant and accomplished producers and musicians, has led to the recording of her two most recent EP's. Her most recent EP, If It's Not Forever, is now available on iTunes.
